

SERVICES FOR LIEUT. TIMOTHY

High Requiem Mass Said This Morning—Father Sullivan Assisted by Three Priests.

ARMY CHAPLAINS PRESENT

Large Crowd Attends Tribute to Gallant Young Chattanooga Slain in France.

Memorial services for Lieut. Christopher S. Timothy, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Timothy, who died in a hospital near Paris July 28 as a result of wounds received at the front, were held this morning at 9 o'clock at St. Peter and Paul's church, Father Francis T. Sullivan, celebrant, was assisted by three priests from Fort Oglethorpe. These were Father Foley, of Springfield, Mass.; Father Harrow, of Philadelphia, and Father Glennon, of Dawson, Pa. High requiem mass was celebrated. Mrs. L. B. Hatcher sang an Ave Maria, accompanied by Miss Helen Winn on the violin. A full chorus choir sang at periods during the services. Seats were reserved to the right of the altar for the family. Corp. Ted Timothy, of the 302d heavy tank battalion, now stationed at Tobyhanna, Pa., was here for the services. He arrived Saturday on a week's leave of absence.

At the head of the center aisle was a catafalque, covered with a United States flag, and three large white candles burning on either side. The communion light burned over the center of the platform and the electric lights burned brightly around the main altar. The altars of the holy Virgin and St. Joseph at either side were adorned with flowers but no lights.

Concluding the high mass services was the sacred benediction, during which Father Harrow acted as celebrant and Father John Carroll as co-celebrant, both standing at the foot of the catafalque, while Father Sullivan pronounced the sacred benediction, sprinkling the holy water and burning the incense, and closed with a prayer and responses by the choir.

After the sacred benediction Father Sullivan, priest in charge of the church, delivered the memorial sermon. He said in part:

"As we stand this morning in the shadow of death it is but natural that we should analyze what it means and ask ourselves why it exists. After we have traced the history of man we find death so common that we ignore it. It is the universal death, the conclusion of life, because it was the Creator that said man must die. It was He who said the most noble and encouraging death was one who died for his friends. It is, then, that we are gathered here this morning to honor one who has died for his country and for his friends.

It seems but yesterday since Christopher Timothy was brought into this church on the arms of his mother and had the holy water sprinkled upon him. He grew up under your eyes; with books under his arm he went to school, where those who have renounced the world were his teachers. He came to this table a young and pure boy, he received the blood. Later he came back and knelt beside this table with his mother and received his Maker. This was the last time he came to this table, which he said, 'While I have lived in the trenches for 115 days, I cannot describe its horrors.' He stated that he had expected one month's furlough, but would only have ten days. His mind dwelt on matters of religion. Directing a remembrance toward the family pew, Father Sullivan said: "We all extend our sympathy, but we should get down on our knees and kiss the very ground that these parents walk on for the sacrifice they have made. Pointing to a beautiful service flag hanging to the left of the platform, with more than 100 stars on it, he said: "A gold star, the first one to be placed there for him. Chris Timothy died honored by his companions and respected by his superiors. He died before he was acquainted with the world, and was reared in the atmosphere of a pure Christian home." He then dwelt upon the horrors and the sorrows of death, and said he could not imagine a more beautiful death than that of the patriotic Christian. "Chris Timothy was reared a Christian and died one," said he, "so let us bow our heads and say, 'O merciful God, give him eternal life.'"

Lieut. Timothy was only 22 years old and was the second one of the Timothy family to give his life on the fields of France, being a first cousin of Lieut. James Simmons Timothy, who was killed in action a few weeks ago at Chateau-Thierry. He was known throughout the south as an athlete, at one time having been a member of the football team at Spring Hill college. He was a graduate of the University of Tennessee, where he had studied law in Chattanooga and had just finished his course when America entered the war, and he volunteered. He received his commission at the Fort Oglethorpe training camp. He was a young man of sterling worth and character and his loss will be deeply felt in the community.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Timothy have lived in Chattanooga for a number of years, and a large body of friends of the family gathered at the church this morning to honor the memory of Lieut. Timothy and extend deepest sympathy to his family.

Books Concerning World War Popular
Eighty-Nine Copies of Late Edition Added to Library in July.
Over eighty books consisting of fiction, philosophy, sociology, useful arts, biographies, literature, travel, history, fine arts, reference and French books were added to the Chattanooga public library during the month of July.

At this time books concerning the world war, particularly of Russia, the German intrigue and certain French books in the present drives are especially in demand.

"My wife was down with pellagra for a long time. She had lost all her strength and suffered a lot from headaches and nervousness. She has used one bottle of Globe Tonic and now she does not have the bad spells. It has stopped the headache and nervousness. I want six bottles for her. If anyone wants to know about it all they have to do is drop me a card." Signed—J. N. Nichols, R. F. D. No. 2, East Chattanooga, Tenn.

For the Benefit of Others Who Have Suffered as I Have
On the 24th of April, 1917, I fell down and dislocated my ankle and destroying the muscles. I tried everything but without any relief and had completely given up all hope of ever walking again. One of my friends told me of Dr. S. Golden, who was in Chattanooga on special cases. I called on him on March 8, 1918, and after 15 days' treatment I was able to walk around with a cane. I am now walking everywhere without a cane. I recommend Dr. S. Golden very highly in his profession. You can find him at Rooms 425-426 James Building, Phone Main 6609. I will be glad to answer either phone or letter. Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, Signal Mountain, or in care of Capt. Brown, City Fire Dept., Company No. 1.

PRIVATE RESIDENCE FLIES MANY STARRED FLAG
Mrs. G. W. Rodgers, Owner of Well-Known Boarding House, Honors Boys in Army.
Service flags have become very familiar to Chattanoogaans since churches, lodges, schools, public buildings and business houses have taken that means of honoring the boys who have joined the colors, but the sight of a many-starred flag flying over a residence porch causes one to pause a moment and wonder the cause. Very few homes boast of a flag of more than two stars. So interest attaches to a flag of thirty-two stars at the home of Mrs. G. W. Rodgers, of 813 East Eighth street.

Mrs. Rodgers has been in charge of a boarding house for a number of years and explains that the service flag represents the boys who were former boarders. Mrs. Rodgers said she felt as if she must do something for her "boys" joining the colors, as some of them had been in her home for more than two years. One star is for her son, J. R. Dearing, who was a member of the first company landing in France. Another star represents her son-in-law, R. R. Reynolds.
A partial list of the boys who have been called to the army is as follows: McGee, Thomas Gregory; Willie McGee; Berry Webb; Billy Hargraves; R. R. Reynolds; Harry Peck; J. L. Parks; J. R. Dearing; H. Hopkins; S. F. Prestwood; W. C. Dugger; Morgan.

GIRL MINSTRELS GIVE SHOW AT ARMY POST
An Evening of Laughter and Fun for the Engineers at "Y" 28.
A girls' minstrel show was a new and novel entertainment given by a delegation from Centenary church Thursday evening, at "Y" 28 of the army post, for the engineers. Miss Grace Duncan directed the show and wrote most of the skits, some of which were directed personally to the soldier boys.

Mrs. L. B. Hatcher and Miss Hazel Drumbar were the colored ladies that occupied each end of the platform, and kept the audience in a constant uproar of laughter. The very sight of their costumes was the initiative of hilarity. The cast included some of the best musical talent of the city, which was supplemented by the Chattanooga mandolin club. R. H. Johnson was the director of the orchestra. The Centenary church has adopted this "Y" and parties go out every Thursday night to give a program. The members of the minstrels were dressed in white, the skirts bordered with black and white striped material and the bodice of the same material as the border. They wore trench caps of black and white.

Those going were: Mrs. R. B. Manning, Mrs. L. B. Hatcher, Misses Katie P. Jones, Linda McTeer, Margaret Foreman, Lucy Sorrell, S. Powell, May Fred Williams and J. R. Manning. Dr. E. E. Wiley, G. Fred Thomas, L. B. Hatcher, Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Weatherford accompanied the party.
Mrs. J. G. English is visiting her mother and friends in Kentucky. She will remain a week or so longer, returning in order to prepare her son, Charles, for Baylor which school he enters this year.

CARUSO TOO EXCITED TO GRANT INTERVIEW

So He Sent Message to Press Reporters on Eve of His Marriage.

Enrico Caruso, most famous of tenors, and Miss Dorothy Benjamin, daughter of Park Benjamin, of 270 West Seventy-third street, were married Tuesday at the Marble Collegiate church, 1 West Twenty-ninth street. Announcement of the wedding came as a surprise to the thousands of friends of the singer, says the New York Tribune.

Word of the wedding was first made public by Caruso himself early last evening. It was a bare announcement of the fact.

Nor was much further information available later in the evening. Caruso and his bride shut themselves in his apartment, on the ninth floor of the Hotel Knickerbocker, Broadway, and Forty-second street, and refused themselves to all callers.

Too Excited to Talk.
He finally sent word by the manager of the hotel that he would like to see the reporters, but that he was too excited to trust his scant English in an interview. He begged them to excuse him on the plea that it was his wedding night.

The brief announcement made by Caruso earlier in the day stated that the ceremony had been performed by Rev. Oliver Paul Barnhill, Bruno Zirato, who has been personal secretary to Caruso for a number of years, acted as best man, and Mrs. John S. Keith, the wife of a Wall Street lawyer, was matron of honor.

"IT PULLED ME OUT OF TROUBLE"

Kept Losing Weight Continually, He Says.

Declares His Improvement Is Wonderful.

Gained Thirty-Four Pounds Since He Started on Tanlac.

"I don't believe I would have ever gotten well again if it hadn't been for Tanlac," declared W. F. Brantley, a well known farmer on R. F. D. out of Mayfield, Hancock county, Ga. "It pulled me out of trouble alright and I weigh thirty pounds more than I did before I started taking it."

"Stomach trouble and nervousness pulled me down so I was so weak in the back and knees I could hardly get about. Lots of times I was so run down I couldn't get out of bed without my wife helping me. I couldn't eat a thing that didn't sour on my stomach and give me no end of misery. I got so I didn't want to eat a bite and I had no strength to go on at all. I kept losing weight all the time."

"A friend told me about Tanlac and I got a bottle and began on it. I hadn't finished the first bottle before I began to pick up and I've been on the mend ever since. Soon I got so I could hardly wait for breakfast I was so hungry. My pains have all gone and I am feeling better than I have in many a day. The fact is Tanlac has done wonders for me."

Tanlac is sold in Chattanooga exclusively by the Live and Let Live Drug Co.—(Adv.)
